He will proceed to Charayave and Cua, little places about a day and a buil frem the capital. He had with him 3,100 men and expected

In consequence of the inexplicable delay of the revolutionists in advancing, President Castro has had time to organize new armies, and to-day he is nearly as strong in numbers as are the revolutionists. He expects re-enforcements of 3,000 men

The central and northern portions of Texas have again received very heavy rains and the lake region and the northern portion of the Middle Atlantic States have also suffered to some extent from excessive moisture. The protracted drought in the central and southern Rocky Mountain districts continues with increased severity and portions of Kansas, Nebraska and the North Facilic Coast regions are in need of rain. Generally, the temperature conditions have been highly favorable.

As a whole, corn has made excellent progress in the pricipal corn-producing States, and an unusually fine crop is promised. In a small part of the Lower Ohlo Vailey and in Southeastern Missouri, Central and Western Kansas, Tennessee and Virginia, a part of the clop is, however, suffering from drought.

Some winter wheat remains to be harvested in extreme northern districts, where harvesting has been much delayed by rains, and considerable damage has been done to wheat in stack and shock. Harvesting is, in general, progressing on the North Pacific Coast under favorable conditions.

Spring wheat harvest has been somewhat delayed by showers in Minnesota, where harvesting is, in general, progressing on the State. In North Dakota, high winds and hall have lodged and damaged spring wheat slightly and rust is appearing on the late sown. The crop is ripening very rapidly in the Dakota, and harvest has begun in extreme Southern North Dakota. In Oregon and Washington spring wheat has made favorable advancement.

Outs harvest in the Northern districts has progressed under more favorable conditions than in the previous week, and is nearing completion, except in the more easterly sections.

The central and eastern bortions of the cotton beit have experienced more favorable weatner and a very general improvement in the condition of the cotton is indicated, the rainfall of the week having largely relieved the drought. MISSOURI CROP BULLETIN.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Columbia, Mo., Aug. 5.-The United States section, for the week ending August 4, bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Missouri section, for the week ending August 4, says:

The week just closed averaged warmer than usual throughout the State, with a good poscentage of sunshine, except in portions of the southern sections, where there was more than the usual amount of clouderess. The rainfull of the week was very local in character and poorly, distributed. In some localities in the northern and western sections the total fail ranged from two to three limbes, but over much the grader portion of the State there was less than one inch, and in many localities only a trace. Good showers have tailen in alme localities in the southeast section, where drought conditions were prevailing, but in the extreme southeastern counties the drought still continues.

In some districts the thrashing of wheat and outs has made but slow progress, owing to damp condition of the grain, and some further damage has resulted from heavy raths, but in most sections the weather has been very lavorable, and work has progressed raphily, with satisfactory yields as a rule, except in some of the northern counties, where a large part of the outs cropwas lost. In a few of the extreme northwestern counties some wheat on bottom lands which could not be cut owing to the softness of the ground is now tening harvested, and a large proportion of it will be saved.

Having its practically complete. Considerable timothy is being thrashed with good yields. Flax is being thrashed in the southwestern counties and the yield is generally exported light and unsatisfactory. Corn is needing rain in neary all of the central and northern sections the late-planted would be benefited by good showers. The crop is still doing exceptionally well however, except in the extreme southeastern counties, where it has been greatly damaged by the continued drought, a me fields naving been practically rulned. The bink of the early corn is now practically safe and with a few limity rains the crop will be enormous.

Cotton in the extreme southeastern counties, is de is declining rapidly, owing to the continued drought.

Towacco is generally doing finely and except in those counties where drought prevails, sorghum cowpeas, millet and kaffir corn are making fine progress, and pastures are generally in excellent condition.

Gardens are doing well, but early potatoes continue to rot to some extent in localities. Broomcorn is reported a good crop in Benton and Perry counties, and in the former it is being cut. Some turning seed has been sown and is coming up well. The condition of the apple crop continues practically unchanged. Bitter rot is appearing in a few counties.

An excellent corp of peaches is being gathered in some of the extreme southern counties.

Plowing for which seeding is progressing in most sections, but in many of the southern counties the ground is reported very hard.

ILLINOIS CROP REPORT. Wheat Fairly Good-Corn Outlook Excellent.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5.-In his weekly bulletin issued to-day, M. E. Blystone, director of the Illinois section of Weather Bureau, United States Department of Agriculture, summarizes the climate and crop conditions for the week ending August 4, as

The weather during the past week has been warm, and generally fair and favorable for farm work, though ight showers occurred over most of the State and heavy rains in a few localities. Most of the heavy rains in a few localities. Most of the heavy rains in a few localities where there had previously been excessive rains, and made the ground too wet to permit harvesting to be carried on advantageously. Haying, harvesting and thrusing have been pushed rapidly during the week, and a great deal of this work has been accomplished.

Except for occasional local showers, the weather continues dry in the southern part of the State, and in some localities the drought is becoming serious. Considerable wheat has been thrashed during the week. A good average yield communics to be turned out, in many localities of the central district the yield is very heavy. In some localities to yield of trye was poor, but it was generally fair to good.

Outs harvest is well advanced in the northern district, in many pinces it has been completed and thrashing has begun. In many fields the ground is so wet that the crop cannot be harvested, and it will probably be lest. The average yield however, will be good. In the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and cuthern districts a great deal of the central and scuthern districts a great deal of the central and cuthern districts a great deal of the central and cuthern districts a great deal of the central and cuthern districts a great deal of the central and cuthern districts a great deal of the central and cuther follows: united out.

Under the favorable conditions of the last week corn has made excelent progress and the prospect for a large crop is very favorable. In the northern and central distracts its condition is very favorable, in the northern and central distracts its condition is very favorable, the unit of sirfet the prospect is not so favorable, though a good yield is anticipated in that distract. The dry weather in some parts of the Fluth has already caused some diamage to the crop, and it is believed that unless good rains come soon the damage will be considerably increased. The broom-corn crop is generally reported to be good.

Haying is practically completed. The yield was fair to very good, though some of it was put up in bad condition. Fastures are generally good, but they are becoming short in parts of the southern district. Stock peas are generally growing well. As a rule gardens are in fine condition. Potatoes are generally doing well and promise a isrue crop, but in many localities they are rotting hadly in the fields.

There is but little change in the apple prospects. The average crop will be light. In some localities it is very poor and in others good. Peaches are generally scarce. Other fruits vary from poor to good.
